Objectives

- Build relationships with other advocates for equity in higher education across multiple colleges, K12 and community partners
- Explore foundational frameworks including mindfulness, holistic wellness, living systems, and brain science
- Engage with language and definitions frequently used in racial equity efforts so we can internalize and personalize shared language and work effectively together
- Build critical awareness of our shared histories including exploring the creation of whiteness, race and racism in Oregon and the United States
- Understand opportunities for future engagement and commit to taking action together
